INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the latest issue of Christian Resources from Torch where you can find a wide range of Christian literature produced by the Torch Trust for blind and partially sighted people.

In this edition you will notice some new features and some new resources.

First of all we have re-arranged the contents under headings, which we hope will help you find what you need. Some items can be found in more than one place as we don't all look in the same way!

Another new feature is a brief description of the books, which we hope will enable you to make an informed choice.

Finally we have included an alphabetical index, with all available resources, at the back of the catalogue.

Most of the books in this catalogue are available from the Torch Library which is a postal library, free to anyone registered, or who could be registered, blind or partially sighted. More details can be found on page 24.

Available in the media you want?

The choice of media is expanding all the time and it's not always appropriate to produce every product in every medium. We have shown the media available for each product, which is correct at the time of publication, by indicating the number of volumes in that medium. Please check the Literature section of the website www.torchtrust.org or ring us on 01858 438260 if you have any queries.

A note about abbreviations.

Where the product is available on Audio CD the letters 'CD' will appear in the 'DAISY' column.

GP stands for giant print which is 24 point. A sample of GP can be found on page 28. Occasionally, but rarely, one of our products is produced in 16 point instead of both standard print and Giant print. This is shown in the conjoined GP and Print boxes as '16 point'.

Many of the Torch literature products are available on our website www.torchtrust.org and an extra column has been added where this is applicable.

Some magazines are now available in e-mail format and this is shown as 'E' in the 'Website' column in the alphabetical section at the back of the catalogue.

Foursight for the Church

Just imagine what it would be like to go to your church if you had little or no eyesight. How will I get there, who will be there to greet me and will they guide me to a seat? Where will I be seated? Will I be next to somebody who will give me any help I need? Which way am I facing, who is here that I know, how will I find them, will I meet anybody I'll like? Then there would be the reading material I'm offered - Bible, songbook, order of service, newsheet - or perhaps worse: "it's all on the screen". How can I join in? And that's just the first few moments!

There are twice as many people living with incapacitating sight loss in the UK as there are people living in Birmingham. That's too many to ignore, yet often that's their experience - even in church!

Register online at www.torch-foursight.org. Once registered you will have access to a growing body of online resources that will help you and your church make a difference for blind and partially sighted people and we'll send you our FREE Church Pack.

HOW TO ORDER

An order form can be found on page 30 which can be mailed to us, or faxed on 01858 438275. You may prefer to email your order to info@torchtrust.org. Alternatively you can call us on 01858 438260.

A few of the titles may still be available on cassette. Please phone to enquire.

Prices are correct at time of going to press.

Delivery

If the recipient is registerable blind or partially sighted, and provided that any printed matter is at least 16 point or greater, then accessible media can be sent via Royal Mail through “Articles for the Blind” freepost. There are, however, items in this catalogue for which we will need to charge delivery. If accessible articles are being ordered along with printed materials or promotional items then a delivery/handling charge will be incurred.

Payment is required within 30 days of date of invoice.

We are happy to take the following cards as payment:

Right to Cancel

THE BIBLE

The Torch Trust has an online resource entitled Bibles in Accessible Media which lists a wide variety of Bibles available in accessible media and information about where they can be obtained. Visit our website at www.torchtrust.org

The Torch Library has several versions of the Bible available for loan in accessible media. Visit our online catalogue at www.torchtrust.org

If, however, you want to purchase an audio or a giant print version of the Bible, or a braille Bible portion, for a blind or partially sighted person, the following pages list which ones are available from the Torch Trust.

Because braille and, to a lesser extent, giant print are bulky, Torch has divided the Bible into a number of volumes, which can be purchased separately.

Megavoice

NASB - New American Standard Bible spoken with an American accent.

A portable Bible at your fingertips!

Megavoice is a small unit, about the size of a large mobile telephone and weighing approximately 140 grams, with an internal rechargeable battery. It has a small number of easy to operate buttons enabling the user to navigate between Bible books, chapters and groups of verses. Sound is through an integrated speaker or supplied headphones. Although it can be recharged using solar-power we recommend purchasing a mains adaptor (9 volt DC transformer). Depending on volume, the player will last for approximately 36 hours on a full charge and the batteries will last for about 300 full recharges but cannot be replaced by the user.

Megavoice comes with a one year warranty. The terms and conditions can be supplied in braille and giant print, as well as print.

There is a handling charge of £5.00 for people who are not blind or partially sighted.

BOOKS

What does it cost?

Torch estimates that the cost of adding a new title in an accessible media, from print, through transcription to production is between £700 - £1,000, depending on the size of the book. Our low costs are only achievable due to a small army of dedicated and highly skilled volunteers as well as Torch subsidising the whole process.

To reproduce further copies in braille, giant print or audio frequently costs more than the price of the original print book, but the Torch Trust believes that blind and partially sighted people shouldn't be disadvantaged by having to pay the true cost. We have therefore set our prices similar to that of acquiring the standard print edition.

Why can't I buy any title of my choice from Torch?

There are three main reasons:-

1. The majority of titles in the Torch Library have been produced under specific copyright agreements and cannot therefore be offered for sale.
2. There are also a number of titles from overseas publishers with restricted copyright agreements.
3. With older titles we may not have the electronic files which would enable us to produce the accessible version.

What about copyright?

The Copyright (Visually Impaired Persons) Act 2002 allows blind and partially sighted people in the UK to have accessible copies in a media to suit their reading preferences. It applies to all works published or distributed in the UK.

This Act provides for organisations like the Torch Trust to produce accessible copies for distribution to blind and partially sighted people. In addition, most publishers are involved through a general licence from the Copyright Licensing Agency (CLA). This makes things simple for UK readers and UK published books and also for visually impaired readers in Europe where the work has UK-owned copyright. Torch operates to such a licence from the CLA and adheres to its terms.
